Transfer inside DFW Airport is free!

You will be entering outside security.

If not using Terminal B for departure, use ground-level bus to get to departure terminal and ticketing / luggage check / security.

Exit terminal B to take Terminal Link buses (Lower Level) to your departure terminal – add 15 min transit time.

Terminal Link (Connect Outside Security)

Once I arrive at Terminal B, how do I connect to other terminals?

Upon arrival at the DFW Airport Terminal B station, passengers make their way inside Terminal B, via entry B43, where American Airlines passengers can check their bags. American Airlines passengers, along with those without checked baggage, can then pass through security and ride Skylink to their departure terminal. All other passengers can use Terminal Link to travel to their departure terminal. Terminal Link buses can be accessed on the upper level of Terminal B in marked areas. Terminal A is a short walk from TEXRail's Terminal B station on the lower level, which offers the same services for all passengers.
